

Snake Suspenderz

Snake Suspenderz, a quartet featuring vocals, ukulele, trombone, guitar, tuba and drums, call their music “cartoon jazz.” They play a relentlessly quirky blend of novelty songs and hits of the 1920’s and 30’s, with a generous helping of original tunes written in those styles. By turns snarky, sentimental and exuberant, Snake Suspenderz brings wildly entertaining musical fun for the whole family and then some, fulfilling their mission to provide “Hot Jass, Hokum And Novelty Music—With A Bite!”

Snake Suspenderz is:

- Thaddeus Spae on bass trombone, guitar and vocals
- Howlin’ Hobbit on ukuleles, harmonica and vocals
- salamandir on tuba
- Andrew “Sketch” Hare on drums, percussion and vocals

“Snake Suspenderz are doing for novelty songwriting what the Bad Livers did for Bluegrass Punk, only with a tromboner and ukist instead of a banjer and a tubist... They are about one accordion shy of a four ring circus.” — Cody Johns

“Just a note of thanks for your participation in my big bash. Snake Suspenderz was just what I had in mind — everyone loved your music and thoroughly enjoyed the gig!” — Betsy H.

“I booked Snake Suspenderz for my housewarming party, and I have to state now that they were fantastic! They were prompt, professional, and really rocked out a party in a way that left all my guests talking about them for days after. Thanks for coming and helping make our evening a success!”—Jeannie Warner

They’ve performed at numerous venues, including the Moisture Festival, the Pink Door and Can Can in Seattle’s historic Pike Place Market, the Pike Place Busker’s Festival, Benaroya Hall (these last two on the same day), Mercer Island Music In The Parks, the Northwest Harvest Festival, the Tractor Tavern, private parties, public markets and the odd street corner.
